Eurovent Expert Webinar

Webinar presents Industry Recommendation on the Ecodesign and Energy Labelling requirements for refrigeration appliances with a direct sales function

The recent Expert Webinar hosted by the Eurovent Association, presented an overview on the recommendations by the industry to bridge the gap between regulatory requirements of the new Ecodesign and Energy Labelling measures while taking into consideration market conditions and realities in Europe.

Key learning points of the webinar include:

- Ecodesign and Energy Labelling requirements for refrigerating appliances with a direct sales function and EPREL (including products in scope of the regulations).
- What is a reference/deducted model and how to extrapolate EEI of a deducted model?
- How to deal with incomplete deliveries and how to increase the effectiveness of market surveillance.

The Expert Webinar recording, and presentation is publicly available to air conditioning and refrigeration professionals, including system planners, installers and manufacturers. To learn more, the webinar recording can be accessed on YouTube using the link:
